The National Advanced Driving Simulator is the nation's largest and first of its kind anywhere in the world. And right here in Iowa! Our mission is to improve safety by researching the connection between drivers, motor vehicles, and road users. To do this, we work with sponsors from the government, military, and industry to conduct research in our simulators and with our on-road research vehicles.

We're always looking for study participants! If you're 18 or older, scan the QR code or visit drivingstudies.com to learn more.
